

Exclusive Indonesian ELECTRIC & ELECTRONIC Manufacturers Directory, 2014 - 2015

The markets of Indonesian electronic products has grown rapidly in the last three years. In 2011, the market value of electronic products including communication instruments reached Rp. 98.5 trillion soared to Rp. 117.5 trillion in 2012 to Rp. 135.6 trillion in 2013 and predicted to reach Rp. 150 trillion in 2014. The amount of electronic product market value is in line with the rising number of medium class society in Indonesia in the last decade.

The great potential has made investment entering into this sector to flow in fantastic number. The greatest investment is from Japan which has controlled this sector for a long time. Moreover, since the existence of survey output conducted by Japan Bank for International Cooperation (JBIC) in 2012 which placed Indonesia in top position as a favorite country for investment, SHARP, TOSHIBA, PANASONIC has been more confident to add their investment. Meanwhile, other countries such as South Korea, Singapore, Taiwan and China have been more incessant to invest in this sector.

There are approximately ten companies which have kept on competing to win electronic markets in Indonesia including PT. Panasonic Gobel Indonesia, PT. Samsung Electronic Indonesia, PT. LG Electronics Indonesia, PT. Toshiba Visual Media Network Indonesia, PT. Sharp Elektronik Indonesia, PT. Hartono Istana Teknologi, PT. Sanyo Sales Indonesia, PT. Maspion, PT. Midea Electronics Indonesia and PT. Istana Argo Kencana.

High growth of electronic business has made Indonesian government to keep on encouraging the development of electric equipment industry of which the demand has also increased highly. In 2012, the export value of electric equipment reached US$ 9.6 billion or it was less than the import value of US$ 15 billion. The import was high since there was also import of generators and electric equipment which have yet to be produced in the country.

PT.
